CARTESBURY HALL still flourishes, notwithstanding the various places of public amusement now open in this city. This popular and elegant place of amusement is nightly crowded with the lovers of fun and variety. The Leoni Pantomime Company has lost none of its attractions, and Bob Butler is the wonder and admiration of the audience, in his astonishing performances. Do not fail to see the Leoni

CHRISTY'S MINERALS continue to delight large audience at Odd Fellows' Hall, which is night by filled by the hon ion of the city. The "Dou-ble Bedded Room" again to-night, with George, of course, as "Swipes."

Dr. Trail's Lecture.

The lecture of Dr. Trail last night was well attended.

He said there were two medical systems in the world. The one ten years old, the other three thousand. The hygeianic and the drug system. He explained the latter system in his first lecture. He now proposed to speak of the former. He mentioned a case which recently came under his observation, where a patient, treated by the drug system, had first the jaundice, then chronic inflamation of the liver, and then typhoid rheumatism. He contended that the drug system aggravated the first named disease and produced all the others. The drug system makes well folks sick, the hygeianic system makes sick folks well. Disease is the remedial power of nature lited. There is no such a thing as a violation of the laws of nature. You fall from the Capitol dome, and you do not break a law of nature. You may break yourself, but you only follow a law of nature.

Whatever the system can use, we take as our The lecture of Dr. Trail last night was well

You may break yourself, but you only follow a law of nature.

Whatever the system can use, we take as our remedies; whatever it cannot use is poison. Disease is the effort of purification. Nutrition and purification are the powers we use to cure. The system has several methods of cleaning. The lungs is one of the organs for this purpose. The carbon goes out at every breath. As a general rule, whatever you find in the doctor's books, on the nature or the effect of diseases, you may take as just the reverse of the true theory, and thus you have a preity correct idea of our system.

The liver is another organ of purification; the bowels another, but the skin is the greatest organ through which the system is cleansed. If asixth part of the skin refuses to act, the patient would die. Common sense is a better doctor than a false education. His greatest remedy is not water, although it is one of his aids. Rest, food, air, &c., are nature's true restorers.

Regulate the process of purification; if it preponderates to one organ, there will be local fever, and that organ will be destroyed; but if diffused, the whole will be renovated simultaneously. Balancs the remedial action, so that all parts will act together. If the patient is cold, we warm him; if he is hot, we cool him. We seek to get a perfect balance of the system.

Robbery—Arrest of the Thieves, and Recevery of the Stelen Goods.

On Wednesday morning the clothing store of Smith & Co., on Seventh street, opposite the Pest Office, was entered by thieves, and considerable clothing carried off. Entrance was effected by forcing a door in the rear of the building, the burglars previously climbing a high wall by means of a step ladder.

Yesterday morning, one of the parties concerned in the robbery, named John Hurley, becoming frightened upon hearing that the police were on their track, turned State's evidence to Officer Handley and Dunn, which resulted in the arrest of Edward McGee, and the recovery of the greater portion of the stolen goods.

Hurley, in his evidence, states that three different attempts were made to enter the store during Tuesday night and Wednesday morning, by himself and companion. Twice they were frightened away by hearing noises in the room above the store. The third time, however, they succeeded in getting into the store, and had made preparations for removing nearly two thousand dollars' worth of goods—selecting clothing of the best quality—when they were again frightened away by hearing approaching steps. In their flight they gathered up as much of their plunder as they could carry way, some of which they concealed under the seat of an old stage which stood in savood yard on the corner of Eighth and H streets, where it was found by the officers. McGee was arrested soon afterwards, by Officer Dunn, and taken to jail.

A search of the prisoner's room result ed in the recovery of another lot of clothing, which Yasterday evening, two colored boys, calling themselves Charles and Wesley Parker, were presented by an officer of this city, and conducted to the office of Justice Johnson, alleged to be fugitives from laber from a loyal master in Maryland. They were questioned by the magistrate, and they stated that they left the premises of their master. Armistead Fillers, who resides at Lovettsville, Loudoun county, Virginia, on last Saturday evening, and made good their escape, by crossing into Maryland above Harper's Ferry. From thence they proceeded to Frederick, and from there came to Washington City on Wednesday evening. The magistrate, discovering that they were intelligent, and possessed valuable information, requested the officer to take them to the Provost Marshal, to be examined and disposed of. At this suggestion, they both said that they were provided with Government quarters, and were permitted to go out to purchase some small articles; whereupon the magistrate requested them to return to their quarters without delay. ## Burrahing for Jeff. Davis.

Hurrahing for Jeff. Davis.

Patrick Gormley, formerly a member of Mayor Berret's pelican police force, was arrested night before last by Officer Lynch, for being drunk and disorderly on the Avenue, and while in that condition hurrahing, at the top of his voice, for Jeff. Davis. Patrick, in his "boozy" state, evidently forgot that matters had changed considerably since the month of February, 1861, when the streets of Washington rung with cheers for the rebel leader, and when the pelicans wasked hand in hand with the traitors. Instead of being turned over to the military authorities, and required to take the oath, he was released on the payment of $2. was released on the payment of $2.

P. S.—We learn that Gormley is an employed in the Government bakery at the Capitol.

was found by the officers. McGee was arrested soon afterward, by Officer Dunn, and taken to jail.

A search of the prisoner's room resulted in the recovery of another lot of clothing, which was likewise taken possession of by officer Dunn, and restored to the owner. The proper ty stolen consisted of fine cloth dress coats, pants, under and over-shirts, silk neck-ties, silk pecket handkerchiefs and hair watch-guards.

Both of the parties engaged in this transaction are young men, respectably connected in this city, and their friends are greatly distressed at this occurrence. Young McGee, but a few days ago, was acquitted before the Criminal Court of the charge of robbing a man of $190. It will go worse with him this time, we're afraid.
